

Safety Technician I - Outage

Job description

Redline Safety is looking for a Safety Technician I – Outage to join their safety team! The Safety Technician I – Outage works under the supervision of a supervisor in a plant environment and provides a variety of services which may include, inspection, testing, cleaning, maintenance, and repair of customer owned equipment.

Redline Safety is a premier safety and compliance provider in the Southeastern United States. Specializing in services such as gas detection, safety training, emergency response training, fire protection, confined space rescue services, compliance and inspection, and onsite emergency medical treatment.

Essential duties

- Assist with atmospheric monitoring for hot work and confined space entry.
- Assist with safety inspections within an assigned area of the mill.
- Assist plant safety with verification of safety work permits.
- Assist with other safety related task as needed.

Skills and Experience:

- Required – Experience in atmospheric testing / monitoring with multi gas testing monitors.
- Preferred – Hazards materials training.
- Preferred – Confined Space entry experience.
- Preferred – Industrial safety experience.

Work Environment

May be frequently exposed to wet, humid, outside weather conditions and vibration. Works in customer environments. May be exposed to high pressure, chemicals, and plant traffic. The noise level in work environment is usually moderate.

Pay

Competitive pay with per diem for travel over 50 miles from home location to job site. This a contractor position and will be subject to issuance of 1099 at the end of the current tax year.

For more information contact Michael Ramer with RedLine Safety Inc.

Email: mramer@redlinesafetyinc.com

Phone: (251)238-2566